

PASTOR'S COLUMN—JUNE 25, 2012

Dear Parishioners:

I went on a priest's retreat recently and expected to spend five days on the retreat. Things were going fine until the morning of Day 2 of the retreat. I received a call from my secretary at St. Joseph's informing me of an impending funeral. Leaving the retreat so abruptly reminded me of the uncertainty of my daily schedule. The constant, stable presence of Jesus helped me to "go with the flow" of an unpredictable schedule.

I suspect that you have had your schedule interrupted by unexpected happenings. "Going with the flow" in Jesus makes for a more peaceable change in schedule direction. I pray that no matter what your schedule stories, that you will savor Jesus' faithful presence at all times.

Loving you in Christ,

Fr. Terry
